A Blueprint for Sustainable Practices

In this current climate the appetite for finding ways to reduce our impact on the planet is gaining momentum. It seems we are being spurred on by mixture of media personalities "declaring war on waste" with the call for the reduction of single use plastics and alike. It appears that we as an industry are also being charged with finding better ways and systems to achieve the reduction in consumption of raw materials and the creation of waste.

As it happens in our industry, we have one such example in Fuji Xerox Australia, who have developed some compelling initiatives involving sustainability, recycling, energy consumption and giving back to the environment.

The good news is that they have offered to throw open their doors to the LIA and share these significant initiatives with the wider graphic arts community and as such, will host a plant tour and show the various processes that go into a closed loop system for keeping their customers going with minimal environmental impact.

The tour will conclude with a dinner and a networking opportunity at the Rosehill Bowling Club, during which you will have the chance to hear an overview of the process. This will be followed by a Q&A session.

This will be a great opportunity to watch, listen and learn and open our minds to possibilities within our own businesses.

Cost: $55 LIA Members and $60 Non-Members.
